Dear Esteemed Parents,

Greetings from TWGS!

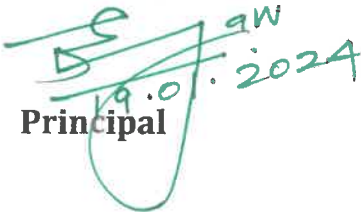

January 22nd holds deep significance, marking a day that may not grace us again. On this momentous occasion, immerse yourself in the consecration ceremony within the sanctity of your homes, offices, or workplaces. Join the grandeur by tuning into the televised event around 12:29 PM.

As the day unfolds, prepare a prayer plate and partake in the ritual with your family. As the evening descends around 7 PM, let the radiance of at least 5 lamps illuminate your homes or places of worship. Strive to keep these lamps aglow until approximately 10 PM, in harmony with your convictions and capacities.

During the day's consecration, fill the air with joy through proclamation accompanied by beat and conch shells. As you light the lamps in the evening, let the atmosphere resonate with harmonious musical notes. May the blessings of Bhagwan Ram be a constant companion.

Extending warm greetings to you.

Best Regards,

Principal
